Do not let MicroSoft get off the hook so easily.
They have gained billions of dollars for selling crappy substandard software to masses who don't know anything about computing.
Many companies from IBM, Apple, Sun, SGI, commodore, Be, Netscape and others have been victimized by Microsoft and Intel. Many technologies that could have been, have been shut out by Microsoft and Intel.

Do't let companies get off easily for the "sake of technology". Don't let consumers suffer from lack of choices just for the microsoft's "right to innovate".
Especially when Microsoft have stifled every competitor's innovation and resources.
Microsoft has hurt everybody else in order for them to gain money, power and influence.

Which is it? The sake for technology or the sake of the consumers like you and me???
